The President

Samuel Solomon, M.D. was born in Chicago and raised on the North Side. He attended Navy Pier (the campus for the University of Illinois in Chicago) and completed his BS in chemistry and zoology at the Champaign campus. He remembers his year downstate with great fondness — it was his first time away from home.

He traveled back to Chicago for medical school, enrolling at the University of Illinois College of Medicine. Sam notes that his class numbered two hundred students, of which five were female — a sharp contrast to today's 50% representation of each sex. After graduation, Sam interned at Evanston Hospital. He remembers it as a modest-sized community hospital where "you knew everyone."

Following his internship Sam served in the Army, spending one year of his two-year service in Vietnam. "I was deeply moved and touched by what I saw," he remembers. "It was a year that tested one in many ways."

Upon discharge from the Army, Sam began his residency in Dermatology at Northwestern University. Fondly reminiscing about Samuel Bluefarb, M.D., then chairman of the department, Sam describes the respect and admiration he felt for his teachers and colleagues during that period in his life.

Sam began his practice of dermatology in two part-time locations, Glenview and Evanston. After 1½ years, however, he joined Sidney Kaplan, M.D. in Waukegan and Lake Forest. Their association continues to this day, although Kaplan now works only part time. More recently Sam has taken a partner, Benjamin Dubin, M.D. Not only do they share a philosophy of the practice of medicine, but many other interests — from sports and movies to reading and cycling.

Sam's passion, however, is gardening. He's a certified plant judge under the auspices of the Gardeners of America. Currently he's involved in producing a gardening program on cable access television. "Easy Gardening" made its debut in 10 northern suburbs in October.

Clearly, Sam's joy is his family. He credits the glint in his eye to his upcoming marriage to Andrea Abrams. His children, too, are a source of great pride. Jeffrey is a Ph.D. candidate in applied anthropology at the American University in Washington, D.C.; Adam is pursuing a Ph.D. in U.S. History at Boston University; and Sara has embarked on a career as a professional chef.

The Chicago Dermatological Society also occupies a special place in Sam's heart. Reflecting on the meetings he attended in the 1960's, Sam notes the "pecking order" that was religiously followed. The older and wiser practitioners sat in the first few rows, the partially seasoned colleagues in the next few rows, and the novices and uninitiated were relegated toward the rear.

Most of all, he remembers, "my fondest memories in regards to ongoing dermatologic education are associated with the Chicago Dermatological Society. The array of patient cases, the protocols, and discussion have made learning a pleasure and, yes, almost effortless."

RESIDENTS' CORNER

WHERE ARE THEY NOW?

Northwestern University

Nona Craig, M.D. is in private practice in Evanston with David Lorber, M.D. She has joined the staffs at Northwestern University and the Evanston Hospital.

Isabelle Goldfadden has joined the department of dermatology at the Henry Ford Hospital in Detroit.

Cook County Hospital

Ronald Berne, M.D. is in private practice at Elk Grove Dermatology in Elk Grove Village.

Jeffrey Draluck, M.D. is in private practice at Deerfield Dermatology in Deerfield.

Suzanne Westphal, M.D. is in private practice at Leone Dermatology Center, Bloomingdale, Illinois.

University of Illinois

Heidi Baca, M.D. is on a one year surgical fellowship at the University of Pennsylvania Hospital in Philadelphia.

Kristie McPherson Hayes, M.D. is section chief of dermatology at the University of Nebraska Medical Center, Omaha, Nebraska.

Jaime Kang, M.D. is in private practice in Des Plaines.

Augusto Montalvo, M.D. is an attending dermatologist at the University of Illinois and Hines VA.

Rush-Presbyterian-St. Luke's Medical Center

Jeffrey Altman, M.D. began a one year fellowship in dermatologic surgery in the department of dermatology at the Marshfield Clinic in Wisconsin. He plans to join his father, Arthur Altman, M.D., in private practice in Arlington Heights.

Lori Swan, M.D. is in private practice at the Arnette Clinic in Lafayette, Indiana.

University of Chicago

Kenneth R. Beer, M.D. completed a dermatopathology fellowship and began private practice in Hoffman Estates. Later this year, he will be relocating to Palm Beach, Florida, to pursue private practice.

IN PASSING

Stefan Bielinski, M.D. (1913-1994)

Dr. Stefan Bielinski, Associate Professor of Dermatology, Emeritus, died at the age of 81, on June 4, 1994. Dr. Bielinski graduated from Loyola University School of Medicine, took his internship and residency program in dermatology at Cook County Hospital, and was board certified in 1957. In 1955 he was appointed to the staffs of Presbyterian-St. Luke's Hospital, University of Illinois Hospitals and Children's Memorial Hospital. Dr. Bielinski was only one of two part-time staff members in the Department of Dermatology at the time the department was established in 1968. He was subsequently appointed Assistant Professor for the establishment of the Rush Medical College, and was later promoted to the rank of Associate Professor in 1986.

Throughout his career Dr. Bielinski was heavily involved in clinical care and teaching and participated actively in our student teaching and resident instruction program. He served on several committees of the Chicago Dermatological Society and served as that Society's Vice President in 1973. He was a member of the American Academy of Dermatology, the Illinois State Dermatological Society, the American Medical Association, the Illinois State Medical Society, and the Chicago Medical Society.

Dr. Bielinski was a congenial, enthusiastic, compassionate physician who very successfully combined a busy private practice with a part-time teaching career. He was an active contributing member of our department until the age of 75 in 1989, when poor health induced him to retire. As a pioneer member of our department he will be especially remembered for his valuable departmental activities and his clinical and teaching expertise.

His survivors include four children, one of whom is Dr. Kenneth Bielinski, Assistant Professor of Dermatology and Director of Dermatologic Surgery at Rush.

Frederick D. Malkinson, M.D.

Samuel W. Tonkens, M.D. (1910-1994)

Samuel W. Tonkens, an active member of the Chicago Dermatological Society for many years, died at his apartment in Milwaukee on the 14th of January, 1994 from complications of peripheral vascular disease. Sam was one of a kind, a man none of us will ever forget. He was a master clinician, an innovative therapist, and mentor to both residents and colleagues. Before his death, Sam told me one of his favorite quotes, which he attributed to George Bernard Shaw: "There are three phases in a person's life — youth, middle age, and 'you're looking good'!" He will be well remembered by his many friends both in Milwaukee and in the Chicago area.

Thomas J. Russell, M.D.

Milton E. Kurth, M.D. (1912-1994)

Milton E. Kurth, M.D., a longtime Chicago Dermatological Society member and a lifelong Chicagoan, died on July 10, 1994, in Rush-Presbyterian-St. Luke's Medical Center. Dr. Kurth lived for the last 54 years in the West Lawn neighborhood, where he and his wife, Lucille, moved when they were married in 1940. He retired last year after decades of work as a plastic surgeon at area hospitals, most recently Christ Hospital and Medical Center in Oak Lawn and St. Anthony's Hospital in Chicago. He served in the Navy in World War II. Besides his wife, Dr. Kurth is survived by a daughter, Carol Ann.

JOB SEARCH

In this issue we introduce a new feature: Job Search. Any dermatologist or resident looking for a position, or any Society member looking for an associate, please contact the Society.

Lani E. Clark, M.D. would be interested in either part-time or full-time employment in July, 1995, in an existing practice as an employee or partner, or in the purchase of a practice. She trained in dermatology at the University of Colorado from 1990 to 1993 and is board certified. She is currently pursuing a dermatologic surgery fellowship at the University of Louisville, which will be completed in July, 1995. Dr. Clark has also completed a three-year residency in internal medicine at UC Davis. Her husband has a research faculty position in the department of rheumatology at the University of Chicago. Her primary interests are in general dermatology, dermatological surgery, and laser dermatology.

Lani E. Clark, M.D. 4104 Waterford Circle #4, Louisville, KY 40207 (502) 894-9708

Sheryl L. Hoyer, M.D. is a 3rd year dermatology resident who is looking for a part-time position in July, 1995. She is currently chief resident in the division of dermatology at Cook County Hospital. She is interested in work in the north or northwest suburbs of Chicago because her husband's job is in Deerfield and both their families live in Wisconsin. Dr. Hoyer graduated from the University of Wisconsin in 1987, attended the University of Chicago Medical School and completed an internship in internal medicine at Northwestern University McGaw Medical Center.

Sheryl L. Hoyer, M.D., 8228 Kilpatrick #2B, Skokie, IL 60076 (708) 675-4244

NEW RESIDENTS

Rush-Presbyterian-St. Luke's Medical Center

Kelly Abate, M.D. graduated from Northwestern University with a B.S. in communications studies before entering the University of Illinois College of Medicine at Rockford where she earned her M.D. She completed her internal medicine internship at Northwestern University McGaw Medical Center.

University of Chicago

Melanie E. Griem, M.D. is the current dermatopathology fellow. She completed her premedical work at Bowdoin College in Brunswick, Maine. She attended medical school at the University of Chicago Pritzker School of Medicine. She interned at Northwestern University in Chicago and completed a three-year dermatology residency at the Medical College of Wisconsin in Milwaukee.

Lisa Marie Seung, M.D. was born in St. Louis, Missouri. She did her undergraduate work at Northwestern University and Columbia University. She attended medical school at the University of Chicago Pritzker School of Medicine. She did her medical internship at the University of Chicago as well.

Hai T. Tran, M.D. was born in Vietnam. He did his pre-medical school work at the University of California-San Diego. He attended medical school at the University of California-San Francisco. He did his medical internship at the University of California-Los Angeles/San Fernando.

NEW MEMBERS

John P. Anders, M.D.

Dr. Anders received his B.A. degree in anatomy and chemistry from Ohio State University. After receiving his M.D. degree from Ohio State University he did his internship at Madigan General Hospital with the United States Army. After serving two years as a flight surgeon, he completed his dermatology residency at Henry Ford Hospital in Detroit. He currently is in private practice with Leo Miedler, M.D. in Toledo, Ohio.

Jeffrey S. Bakal, M.D.

Dr. Bakal received his B.S. in molecular biophysics and biochemistry from Yale University and received his M.D. at the University of Pennsylvania School of Medicine. After an internship in internal medicine at the Hospital of the University of Pennsylvania, he completed a dermatology residency at Boston University and Tufts-New England Medical Center. He is currently in practice with Dr. Kenneth Beer in Hoffman Estates and Dr. Shelley Halper in LaGrange.

Marylee Braniecki, M.D.

Dr. Braniecki received her B.S. in biology with a special major in neuroscience at the State University of New York at Buffalo and her M.D. at the University of Kansas Medical School in Kansas City. She completed a combined anatomic and clinical pathology residency at Kansas University Medical Center with a 5th year at Buffalo General Hospital in surgical pathology. She then went to Duke University as a dermatopathology fellow. She is currently practicing as a general pathologist in Aurora with emphasis in dermatopathology.

Christopher L. Hedberg, M.D.

Dr. Hedberg received his B.S. degree in biology and M.D. from the University of Iowa. After an internship in Des Moines, he did his dermatology residency at the University of Iowa. He then went into private practice for 2½ years in Mason City, Iowa, before joining the DeKalb Clinic.

Daniel J. Kelly, M.D.

Dr. Kelly received his A.B. in history from Yale University. He received his M.D. from Jefferson Medical College in Philadelphia. After finishing a rotating internship at Boston Naval Hospital and a pathology residency at Oakland Naval Hospital, he served as chief of Laboratory Service at Great Lakes Naval Hospital. He is board certified in pathology (anatomic and clinical), nuclear medicine, and dermatopathology. He is currently chief of staff at Highland Park Hospital with special interest in dermatopathology.

Scott L. Zahner, M.D.

Dr. Zahner received his B.S. in biology and M.S. in anatomy and physiology from Northern Illinois University in DeKalb. After receiving his M.D. from the University of Chicago, he completed an internal medicine internship at Bexar County Hospital in San Antonio, Texas. He then completed his residency in dermatology at Cook County Hospital. He is currently in private practice in Chicago and Berwyn with Doctors George Engel, Asanne Lertsburapa, and Rosemary Chen. In addition, he is teaching dermatologic surgery at Cook County Hospital.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Centennial Celebration

The Dermatology Department at the University of Illinois will be celebrating its 100th anniversary in December, 1995. On December 2nd and 3rd, 1995, there will be a special centennial meeting. This meeting will be jointly sponsored by the University of Illinois, Chicago Dermatological Society, and the Illinois Dermatological Society. The format will consist of lectures Saturday afternoon by nationally recognized dermatologists formerly affiliated with the University of Illinois Department of Dermatology. There will be a cocktail party and dinner Saturday night. On Sunday morning, there will be a clinical meeting at the University.

January CPC

On January 18, 1995, the Society will sponsor the Silas Wallk Day of Learning at the Chicago Medical Society building. A lecture from 10 a.m. until 11:30 a.m. will be presented by Stephen Katz, M.D., Ph.D. Doctor Katz is the chief, Dermatology Branch of the National Cancer Institute, and the Marion B. Sutzberger professor and acting chairman of the Department of Dermatology, Uniformed Services University of the Health Sciences, Bethesda, Maryland. After a lunch break, there will be a CPC panel discussion from noon until 2 p.m. consisting of two to three cases per panelist. The purpose of the CPC will be both instructive and self-evaluating. Society members participating in the panel will be: Darryl Bronson, M.D., William Caro, M.D., Matthew Fleming, M.D., David Fretzin, M.D., Maria Medenica, M.D., and Salve Ronan, M.D. Future CPC panel discussions will be moved to April to accommodate residents taking the mock board examination.

Advisory Board

James O. Ertle, M.D. was elected to the Executive Committee of the American Academy of Dermatology Advisory Board. He was also appointed to the Health Policy Council of the AAD which is primarily concerned with managed care problems.

Board of Directors

Marianne O'Donoghue, M.D. was elected to the Board of Directors of the AAD.

Vitiligo Foundation

The National Vitiligo Foundation is forming a local chapter in the Chicagoland area. Our Society members can help by either referring vitiligo patients who are interested in participating in a support group, or by volunteering a small portion of their time to share information with patients. If anyone is interested, they can write to the National Vitiligo Foundation, Inc. Chicago Chapter, P.O. Box 428585, Chicago, Illinois 60642-8585 or call (312) 434-4876.

HONORS

Roger W. Pearson, M.D., Professor and Acting Chairman, was recognized by Rush-Presbyterian-St. Luke's Medical Center for 25 years of service on its faculty and staff.

The family of the late Stefan Bielinski, M.D., Associate Professor Emeritus, was presented with a posthumous plaque honoring him for 40 years of service at Rush-Presbyterian-St. Luke's Medical Center.

On February 14, 1994, dermatology chair David Woodley, M.D., became the Walter J. Hamlin Professor of Dermatology at Northwestern University.
